Hi Mrs. Randle! [REDACTED]! I don't know if you remember me, but I took your class (ENC 1101) in Summer C 2019, and it's still, to this day, been one of the best courses I've ever taken. Not to mention that you're my favorite professor ever too! I wanted to reach out and say thank you for seeing the potential in me and my writing capabilities. I remember after one class, you pulled me to the side and asked what my major was. You seemed shocked when I said I was pursuing a major in Marketing. You encouraged me to go into Journalism because you believed that I was a very talented writer. Although I didn't end up changing my major to Journalism, I joined this organization called HerCampusFSU. I write articles every week, ranging from personal to profile to news, and it gets posted every other week. Since joining this organization, I've become very interested in being a writer when I'm older, possibly for a magazine company, but who knows. Also, I provided a link down below to my articles if you wanted to read one in your spare time! I never really considered myself a writer, but now that's the only thing that keeps me sane during these crazy times. Again, thank you for seeing something in me when I didn't see it in myself! I hope you're doing fantastic, and I hope that I can meet with you in person soon once all the madness dies down! Wishing you the best! [REDACTED]
